Subject: Who's going to be taxed more?

Dear Commissioners,

Having received Steve Levy's comments on the Milken Institute's "Who's Leaving California", one page is of particular interest. Our commission is to reflect our hopes for the 21st Century including, I would hope, promoting those industries that are growing. According to Steve, the number of jobs in the Professional, Scientific, Technical and Information Services crossed over Manufacturing jobs in 2006 and will continue to be the jobs that grow. How will the Business Net Income Tax impact growing jobs which we wish to continue vis-à-vis "old" jobs? My hope is that we not only decrease volatility but encourage job growth in 21st Century industries/businesses.

I'm happy to have Chris Edley and John Cogan designated to work with Gerry Parsky and staff to work through the various presentations.

I would, however, like to have answers to the many questions I've asked over the past six months via emails to Gerry and Mark Ibele. How should I proceed to find answers in preparation for a vote?

Becky
